DEAR BRYN MAWR ALUMNAE/I AND FRIENDS,

A trip to majestic, remote Antarctica is truly the journey of a lifetime. Join our voyage and you'll be in direct contact with Antarctica's teeming penguin rookeries. You will trek through the exhilarating landscape, encounter cathedral-sized icebergs and humpback whales aboard Zodiacs, and kayak for your own personal polar adventure.

Share the adventure with a veteran team of naturalists who will enhance your understanding and appreciation. Experience the Antarctic undersea, with the expertise of an undersea specialist and with the help of a Remotely Operated Vehicle. You'll capture the amazing scenery and wildlife with a unique expedition photography program, featuring an onboard professional photographer. Plus, you'll have the services of an onboard certified photo instructor, a specially trained naturalist who will help improve your skills and ensure you go home with incredible photos.

It is important to remember that Antarctica is not tame—it is one of the most remote and wild places on Earth. Our tour operator for this program, Lindblad Expeditions, pioneered expedition travel to Antarctica over 50 years ago and is well known for their experience and commitment to safety and preserving the environment. We'll travel to the White Continent aboard the state-of-the-art expedition ship National Geographic Explorer, designed to provide you with the utmost safety and comfort.

I hope you will join us on this memorable trip of a lifetime to the stunning wilderness of Antarctica! To reserve your space, please return the reservation form or call our group representative at Lindblad Expeditions toll free at 888-773-9007.

Sincerely,

Millicent Bond '05

THOMAS MOZDZER, Associate Professor of Biology at Bryn Mawr College

Dr. Mozdzer is a global change ecologist who aims to create a better understanding of how ecosystems are responding and evolving to global change factors including rising concentrations of carbon dioxide, nutrient pollution, sea level rise, and global warming. At Bryn Mawr, he teaches Global Change Biology, where students critically evaluate the consequences of melting glaciers in Antarctica on coastal ecosystems that are very sensitive to changes in sea level. In his NSF-supported research at the Smithsonian Global Change Research Wetland, Dr. Mozdzer is evaluating a novel question: does rapid evolution in response to global change influence how ecosystems function? Ecologists used to think evolution was too slow to affect their studies, but recent findings from Mozdzer's research are proving otherwise.

DISCOVER THE THRILL OF THE ICE

Edifying. Captivating. And deeply moving. The ice art of Antarctica is among the world's most singular sights. The Antarctic ice sheet is the most distinctive feature of Earth as seen from space—as described by every astronaut's account. And the ice is what makes every Antarctic explorer vow to return. It's visually stunning and nearly kaleidoscopic in its variety of form. But what's exhilarating to discover is the ice's voice. Sitting in a stilled kayak, listening to the subtle sibilance of 1,000-year-old gases releasing from a bobbing field of floating bergy bits is like eavesdropping on Earth's whispered secrets. Ice fever. It's a thing.

ENCOUNTER PENGUINS GALORE

Adélies. Chinstraps. Gentoos. These are the riveting, often raucous, denizens of Antarctica. Meet and greet three of the world's penguin species. Visit their rookeries and see fascinating behavior. Whether they're squabbling, fetching krill and feeding chicks, or “porpoising” (propelling themselves from the sea), you will delight in their antics and marvel at their adaptation to life on the ice.

PERFECT PLATFORM FOR EXPLORATION

National Geographic Explorer is a genuine expedition ship, not a cruise ship masquerading as one. Therefore, she is uniquely equipped to facilitate the expedition philosophy of in-depth seeing and experiencing—with state-of-the-art tools for exploration. An unparalleled base for discovery, the ship enables the fullest expression of the expedition style: an intimate, authentic, learning-oriented environment. She is also most importantly able to provide excellent safety features and an equally excellent Antarctic experience. In addition to being an ice-class polar expedition vessel, National Geographic Explorer is a beautiful ship, built with careful attention to details and comfort. Accommodating just 148 guests in 81 outside-facing cabins, she fosters a welcoming esprit de corps within the expedition community and provides a perfect ending to active days.

Guests review nautical maps at the Bridge.

TOOLS & TECHNOLOGY ENSURE EXTRAORDINARY BENEFITS

DNV ICE-1A Class Rating on the hull, enabling us to navigate the ice safely

A Remotely Operated Vehicle (ROV) that can explore the ocean at depths to 1,000 feet

A Crow's Nest Remote-controlled Camera with real-time footage broadcast on high definition LCD video screens within each cabin

An Electronic Chart System that broadcasts as a channel in the cabins

A Chart Room with nautical maps and a coffee, tea, hot cocoa station

Open Invitation to Visit the Bridge

An Observation Lounge, providing panoramic vistas of the scenery and a supply of binoculars

Large Fleet of Zodiacs and internal boarding mechanism for swift, effortless disembarkation of all guests

36 Double Kayaks that allow personal exploring in pristine Antarctic environments

A Professional Video Chronicler to capture every facet of your unique adventure, and professionally edit a video prior to departure available for purchase

Opposite (clockwise from top): National Geographic Explorer is designed with the utmost attention to safety and comfort; guests join officers on the Bridge to watch them navigate the ice; exploring amid the icebergs via Zodiac with narration by a naturalist; kayaks allow for personal exploration.

TRAVEL WITH AN A+ EXPEDITION TEAM

You'll travel with the top team plying polar waters. The ship's captain and officers have decades of experience navigating Antarctic expeditions, confirming they have the expertise and confidence to safely conduct guests through the full range of polar weather and sea conditions. With a profound love for the polar geographies, the captain and his team ensure that spontaneity and memorable moments remain expedition hallmarks.

The expedition staff helps guests board kayaks safely and swiftly.

The unparalleled expedition team is key to your in-depth experience. An expedition leader, naturalists/historians, undersea specialist, professional photographer, certified photo instructor, video chronicler, and wellness specialist all contribute to your experience of the wonders. The generous expedition staff-to-guest ratio of 1:10 means more choice in activities and more diverse personalities and interests to which you can gravitate. Their guidance and enthusiasm make this Antarctica expedition uniquely informative and fun.

TAKE GREAT PHOTOS WITH THE PROS

Unique in the world of travel, our expedition photography program offers guests of every skill and interest level unrivaled photography opportunities—including a top world-class professional photographer aboard. Plus, a certified photo instructor is on hand to help you understand your camera settings, the basics of composition, and wildlife behavior. Then, test the latest high-end photo gear, on loan from B&H Photo Video. Now, every guest—from smartphone camera users to semi-pro shooters—can stand side-by-side with top photographers and pick up tips in the field and take great photos.

ACTIVELY EXPLORE EVERY DAY, IN MANY WAYS

Go with us for a genuinely immersive experience. National Geographic Explorer's Antarctic itinerary is crafted by explorers, enhanced by onboard experts and advanced tools, and features myriad opportunities for adventure. Begin each day with a morning stretch class or pre-breakfast coffee. Hang out on the Bridge to watch the captain navigate or head to the bow to watch the ship slice through the ice. Pick up pro tips from onboard expert photographers, and explore the undersea from the cozy lounge via live footage captured by the undersea specialist. Go ashore to hike for spectacular views, explore a penguin colony, and a chance to kayak for personal exploration. A fleet of Zodiacs and kayaks, plus the team's swiftness in deploying them, ensures you'll never be wistfully awaiting a turn. You'll be out in nature—enjoying and exploring all it offers—as quickly as possible.

EVEN DISCOVER THE VIVID UNDERSEA

An onboard undersea specialist will dive with a video camera and bring back footage for all to watch in vivid HD, in the dry warmth and comfort of the ship's lounge, perhaps with a cocktail in hand and hors d'oeuvres at the ready. Always interesting, it can also be pioneering. In Antarctica, the footage you see may be of marine life few scientists, or human eyes for that matter, have ever seen.

JOURNEY TO ANTARCTICA: THE WHITE CONTINENT

14 DAYS/11 NIGHTS—ABOARD NATIONAL GEOGRAPHIC EXPLORER

National Geographic Explorer approaching iceberg, Antarctica.

Traveling aboard the state-of-the-art National Geographic Explorer, encounter the spectacular Antarctic Peninsula and the surrounding islands and waterways. Glide around enormous tabular icebergs by Zodiac, photograph the penguin colonies, and kayak in complete tranquility.

DAYS 1 AND 2: U.S./BUENOS AIRES, ARGENTINA

Depart on an overnight flight to Buenos Aires, Argentina's cosmopolitan capital. Settle into the Alvear Art Hotel (or similar) before seeing the city's Beaux Arts palaces and the famous balcony forever associated with Eva Perón. (Day 2: L)

DAY 3: FLY TO USHUAIA/EMBARK

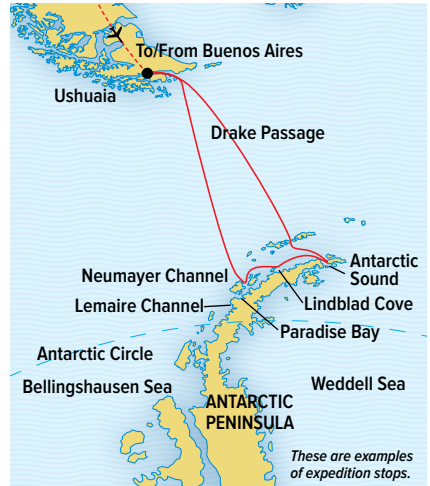

Fly by private charter to Ushuaia, the southernmost city in the world. Enjoy lunch on a catamaran cruise of the Beagle Channel before embarking the ship. (B,L,D)

DAY 4: AT SEA/DRAKE PASSAGE

While crossing the legendary Drake Passage, spot albatross and other seabirds that glide alongside the ship. (B,L,D)

DAYS 5-10: EXPLORING ANTARCTICA

With long hours of daylight at this time of year, you have ample opportunity to explore the Antarctic Peninsula and the surrounding islands. In keeping with the nature of an expedition, the schedule is flexible so that we can take advantage of the unexpected—watching whales perform off the bow, taking an after-dinner Zodiac cruise, or heading out on an unplanned landing. We anticipate making landings to walk ashore and kayak among the ice floes, and experience close encounters with wildlife. You may have the thrill of watching the powerful ship crunch through the pack ice, or step ashore to thousands of Adélie and chinstrap penguins. You'll learn how climate change affects the penguin populations, and how to capture images of those same penguins from the expert onboard photographers. Back on ship, the undersea specialist may present video from that day's dive or show rare images taken up to 1,000 feet below the surface using the ROV. The expert staff will craft an expedition where you will learn, see, and experience more. (B,L,D)

DAYS 11 AND 12: AT SEA

Enjoy the ship's amenities as the Antarctica coast disappears from view. Round the southernmost tip of South America, and see the meeting of the Atlantic and Pacific Oceans. Celebrate your voyage at a farewell dinner on board. (B,L,D)

DAYS 13 AND 14: USHUAIA, ARGENTINA/DISEMBARK/BUENOS AIRES/U.S.

Disembark in Ushuaia. Fly by charter to Buenos Aires and connect with your overnight flight home. (Day 13: B,L)

OPTIONAL EXTENSIONS:

Buenos Aires: Pre-voyage, 2 days.
Iguazú Falls: Post-voyage, 3 days.
Easter Island: Post-voyage, 5 days.
Call for details.

Adélie penguins.

NATIONAL GEOGRAPHIC EXPLORER

CAPACITY: 81 outside cabins accommodating 148 guests.

REGISTRY: Bahamas. OVERALL LENGTH: 367 feet.

National Geographic Explorer is a state-of-the-art expedition ship. She is a fully stabilized, ice-class vessel, with an ice-reinforced hull, enabling her to navigate polar passages while providing exceptional comfort.

PUBLIC AREAS: Bistro bar; chart room; restaurant; global gallery; library; lounge with full-service bar and state-of-the-art facilities for films, slideshows, and presentations; mudroom with lockers for expedition gear, and observation lounge. An open Bridge enables guests to meet the officers and captain and learn about navigation.

MEALS: Served in single seatings with unassigned tables for an informal atmosphere. Menu is international with local flair.

CABINS: All cabins face outside with windows or portholes, private facilities, and climate controls. Some cabins have balconies. Equipped with Ethernet and Wi-Fi connections and USB ports for mobile devices.

EXPEDITION EQUIPMENT: Zodiacs, Remotely Operated Vehicle (ROV), hydrophone, splash-cam, underwater video camera, crow's nest remote-controlled camera, video microscope.

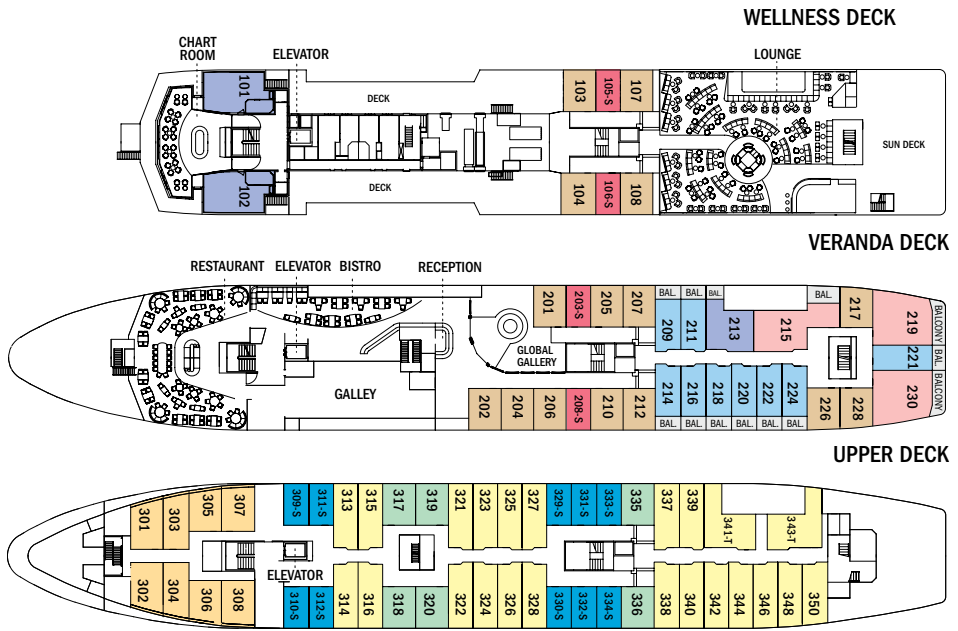

SPECIAL FEATURES: A full-time doctor, undersea specialist, Global Perspectives guest speaker, professional photographer, certified photo instructor, video chronicler, internet café, and laundry.

WELLNESS: The vessel is staffed by a wellness specialist and features a glass-enclosed fitness center, outdoor stretching area, LEXspa treatment room, and sauna.

SELF-DISINFECTING SHIPS: Lindblad Expeditions became the first self-disinfecting fleet with the rollout of the ACT CleanCoat™ system in 2019. This photocatalytic cleaning process activates when illuminated, continuously breaking down unwanted microbes such as bacteria, viruses, mold, and airborne allergens. The positive environmental impacts of this non-toxic, chemical-free system are many: less plastic in the supply chain and waste stream, and more than one million gallons of water saved annually. The system lowers our carbon footprint and creates a cleaner, healthier shipboard environment for guests and crew alike.

From top: Dining room with unassigned seating and a casual atmosphere; comfortable Category 5 cabin with balcony; standard bathroom; fitness center with panoramic views.
