

Open Office Hour for Faculty and Staff re: Racist Graffiti
February 3, 2022

Dear Faculty and Staff Members:

I have heard from several members of the faculty and staff concerned about the anti-Black racist graffiti that has been found in Rockefeller Hall and asking if more information can be shared. While there was an open community meeting last evening, I recognize that this took place after many faculty and staff had left campus for the day.

Jennifer Walters and I will thus offer a faculty and staff office hour today, February 3, from 3:30-4:30 p.m. in Guild 203 to answer questions and offer clarifications. Please be aware, however, that this is an active investigation and that there are limits to what we can share.

Best,

Kim Cassidy
